Before me this day personally appeared Cory G. Carr, who, being duly sworn,

My name is Cory G. Carr and I am the defendant in this case. On Tuesday, November 10, 2009 (the date of this alleged offense) I was a full-time student at the University of Central Florida majoring in Mechanical Engineering and I had approximately a 3.2 grade point average, which is exceptionally high for my major. I am also former member of the United States Marine Corp and received an honorable discharge in July of 2000. I was attending UCF under the G.I. Bill and pursuant to a veteran's vocational rehabilitation benefit. During the Fall semester, I was enrolled in two classes: Thermodynamics and Physics II for Scientists and Engineers. The following narrative is my side of the events that took place on Tuesday, November 10, 2009.
